TOYOTA GAZOO RACING INDONESIA IN ACHIEVING SUCCESS AT THE FINAL ROUND OF THE 2024 SLALOM SERIES

The 2024 SLALOM series entered its final round, which took place on November 2, 2024, at GOR Arcamanik. Toyota Gazoo Racing Indonesia (TGR), supported by GT Radial tires, successfully achieved remarkable results across several classes, including Alinka Hardianti, who won the 2024 Women's National SLALOM Championship.

The achievements earned by TGR brought great pride to GT Radial. Through its reliable products, the Champiro SX2 and Champiro GTX Pro, GT Radial provided exceptional support to TGR, enabling them to achieve a series of accomplishments in the final round of the 2024 SLALOM.

NOVEMBER 2024

TGRI fielded its best drivers for the final round, including Adrianza Yunial, Alinka Hardianti, Anjasara Wahyu, and Herdiko Setyaputra. With all the individual and team successes, GT Radial hopes that TGRI will continue to achieve further victories in the future, with the ongoing support of GT Radial tires.

GT RADIAL SHINES IN THE TOYOTA GAZOO RACING PHILIPPINES CUP

GT Radial successfully proved its quality by providing outstanding support to all racers participating in the Toyota Gazoo Racing Philippines Cup on November 8-9, 2024, at the Clark International Speedway. This event marked the final series of the 2024 season.

All racers in the 2024 Toyota Gazoo Racing Philippines Cup relied on GT Radial Champiro SX2 and Champiro XSR tires. With above-average quality and the positive performance impact of Champiro SX2 and Champiro XSR tires, all participants were able to complete their races safely, comfortably, and without any accidents.

In addition to Sprint Race formats, the Toyota Gazoo Racing Philippines Cup featured events like Time Attack, Trackday, Dyno, and Endurance Race. The entire event series was filled with entertainment, creating a cheerful atmosphere for all automotive enthusiasts.
